

How It Works?

Step 1

We will send you new job alerts via email (optional within profile). You can also search for car transport jobs based on your preferred locations and place bids. Once you bid, the job moves to the 'bidding' section where you can message the customer and revise your bid.

Step 2

When you find a job to bid on, click the 'place bid' button and send a message. We recommend bidding lower than the current lowest bid and sending a professional message to increase your chances of winning the job. If outbid, you'll receive an email notification (optional in your profile).

Step 3

When a customer accepts your quote, we provide their contact details to finalise the job. The customer pays a deposit (commission) to us online to secure the booking and the remaining amount (your bid) is paid directly to you. New transporters should bid lower initially to help build feedback and reputation

Step 4

Our commission: We add approx 10% on top your bid, the customer will pay this in the form of a deposit, so that you don't need to pay us anything. For example, if you bid £200, the customer pays a £20 deposit to us online and £200 directly to you by your normal means of payment. You always receive your full bid amount.
